

Brian Bohnenkamp, JD, MHA

Brian specializes in regulatory and compliance matters relating to drug, biotechnology, and medical device companies. A partner in King & Spalding's FDA practice, he has extensive experience counseling manufacturers on fraud and abuse laws, industry codes of conduct, federal and state transparency laws and regulations, state and local gift bans, compliance program laws and sales representative licensing requirements, as well as government ethics restrictions. Brian also counsels and represents manufacturers defending government investigations into alleged violations of the Anti-Kickback Statute and False Claims Act.
