

Tiago Garrido

Tiago Garrido is a compliance officer with over 15 years of pharmaceutical and biotech compliance experience managing complex organizations and programs including rare disease, oncology, and novel modalities such as microbiome therapeutics. A seasoned executive adept at establishing and evolving a compliance culture and program throughout all stages of a company's lifecycle. He is currently the VP, Chief Compliance Officer at Seres Therapeutics, where he is responsible for the development, management, and oversight of its healthcare compliance and privacy programs.