

Gary F. Giampetruzzi, JD

Former longtime, senior in-house counsel at Pfizer, and recently named the "Government Investigations Lawyer of the Year 2022" by LMG Life Sciences, Gary Giampetruzzi is a partner in the Litigation Department of Paul Hastings, based in the firm's New York office. Gary is the Global Chair of the Life Sciences Department and a Vice-Chair of the Investigations and White-Collar Department. Gary is also an active member of the Paul Hastings Litigation Diversity Working Group. Gary routinely advises clients on compliance matters, high-profile investigations, including Healthcare Fraud and FCPA matters, and he possesses deep experience in the life sciences sector, representing many of the world's most prominent biotech, pharmaceutical, and medical device companies. He regularly works with the boards and board-level committees of these companies. Gary also has been at the forefront of rare disease biotech compliance and thought leadership and helps chair the Rare Disease Compliance Forum. Since March 2020, Gary has been a member of the board of directors of HerHealthEQ, a non-profit organization whose mission is to drive health equity for women by providing medical devices and equipment to developing nations for women's health issues.