

Terra Reynolds, JD

Terra Reynolds, Global Vice Chair of the Healthcare & Life Sciences Industry Group, Co-Chair of the Chicago Litigation & Trial Department, and Global Vice Chair of the White-Collar Defense & Investigations Practice, represents clients in internal and government investigations and complex litigation matters. Drawing on more than a decade of experience as a former federal prosecutor, Ms. Reynolds regularly advises corporations, boards of directors, and individual executives on their most sensitive matters involving a range of alleged misconduct. A significant focus of Ms. Reynolds' work is defending against allegations of healthcare fraud and abuse laws, including the False Claims Act (FCA) and the Anti-Kickback Statute (AKS). She frequently handles high-profile investigations brought by the US Department of Justice (DOJ), the US Department of Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General (HHS OIG), the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA).
