

Sara Simon, JD

Sara Simon is Counsel in Porzio, Bromberg & Newman's Life Sciences Compliance and Regulatory Counseling Group. Sara works with emerging and established pharmaceutical, medical device, and biotechnology companies on a variety of compliance and regulatory issues and has extensive experience understanding applicable federal laws and regulations including anti-kickback and other fraud and abuse laws, as well as state drug pricing reporting requirements. Sara received her J.D. from Seton Hall University School of Law and her B.A. from University of Massachusetts, Amherst and is admitted in New York and New Jersey.