

Torsten Syrbe

Torsten Syrbe advises major international corporations on their global operations. He specialises in the global healthcare and life sciences sector, while also regularly advising clients in the tech space, private equity and various other industries. He is a core member of our Global Healthcare & Life Sciences Sector Group.

Torsten started his career at Clifford Chance's Brussels office and subsequently worked in the Düsseldorf office prior to relocating to Moscow in 2002. Following two decades based in the Moscow office, where Torsten led dozens of headline M&A transactions across the region, precedent antitrust cases as well as prominent compliance investigations and regulatory projects, he moved back to Düsseldorf in May 2022.

Torsten continues his practice out of Germany, steering complex, high-end projects across Europe and beyond. Over the past 20 years, Torsten has frequently been highly ranked in the international directories for his antitrust and healthcare expertise.
